

BE READY FOR BABY.

Get a breast pump at no additional cost.

Did you know that breastmilk is the only food your baby needs for the first six months? Health care providers advise breastfeeding for one year or longer, but your baby benefits from any amount of breastfeeding you can do. Pumping breastmilk can help you provide milk for your baby when you're apart. You may also want to use a pump if your baby is unable to feed at the breast.

Your Cigna medical plan may include coverage for a breast pump.

Once you reach the 28th week of pregnancy, you can usually qualify for a breast pump at no additional cost through one of our many approved breast pump providers.

To order your breast pump, contact one of the providers listed below.*
